Set up the help interface to have bigger fonts. Tweaked here and there the Graphical User Interface. Added larger maps: 7800 sqm. Now you can scroll the map using the arrow keys. (Working on getting this done with the mouse.) For the time being, removed the mana. Keep in mind the larger the map, the hardest it will be to villagers to get stuff done.. DEMO + NEW LOGO + HORROR GAME! : Well guys, this is a quick up to date report: We managed to get a Demo Version of Pixel Survivors in the store. That way the new players would not have to adventure into a game they don't know, and decide if they like it or not before purchasing the full version. That might help those who are not convinced with the trailer and reviews, but still want to give the game a try. To do that simply click the "Download Demo" on the right side of the Store. The new Logo of Pixel Survivors is done, and all the assets have been replaced. Those assets will be available for downloading, starting tomorrow at: And finally, the grand reveal of the month, our new 3D horror project: Gates Motel, a horror-puzzle game: You can find more about it at: If you guys would like to see this game on Steam, VOTE the concept, and once Pixel Survivors reaches a Full Release state, it will be our next project.. UPDATE 0.55 - STEADY FPS! : Well guys, today we are releasing the 0.55 Update. Polished up the chunk generation of the map. Now its possible, tested by your humble servant, to run a full map with 90 FPS - 7400 sqm) If you don't own a gaming pc, it is possible that you might experience some lag, at the start and end of every night. (Specially if you have hundreds of undeads.) A full map running at 90 FPS Great improvements to the chunk generation system. Small details in pixelart errors. Fixed graphical glitches in the death animations. Will consider to limit the terrain generation to population. So you don't end up with 100 acres of resources without enough workforce to clear it. THIS TOPIC DEPENDS ON YOUR FEEDBACK. Hope you guys enjoy it.
